

The Next Hit Holiday Musical!

Let's be honest... how many sugar-plum fairies can one stomach? We all know how "A Christmas Carol" ends and despite global warming, Frosty the Snowman always comes back. That's why — each December — the award-winning, side-splitting improv comedians of Broadway's Next Hit Musical present a new holiday classic for the ages (and all ages). A world premiere every time ... because it hasn't been written yet.

Stand up and cheer, or fall out of your chair with laughter, as New York's funniest improvisers use holiday-themed song titles made up by the audience, and turn them into hilarious, new, radio-ready, ChrismaHanuKwanzaa hits, created completely on the spot.

"Blitzen the Irregular-Nosed Reindeer?"

"Tic-Tacs in my Stocking... Again?"

"I'm 47 and I Still Don't Know How to Spell Hanukkah?"

Any of these, and thousands more lost holiday favorites, are the fodder for the imagination of this brave cast.

Suggest it, they'll sing it! Then, vote for your favorite and be in awe as a full-blown, holiday themed, winter wonderland, elf, reindeer, and menorah filled musical unfolds, complete with hummable melodies, jazz hands, and more holiday cheer than a bus full of mall Santas, this new musical will enter the annals of holiday classics. It's festive, it's funny, and it definitely compliments a cup of eggnog. Be there for opening night and your holidays will never be the same!
